

Around the House

A Quarterly Publication of Northwest Mechanical • Spring 2005

HERE'S A PLAN that should "agree" with you nicely.

To derive the greatest possible value from your home heating and plumbing systems, consider the many advantages of a Northwest Mechanical Planned Maintenance Agreement.

You know the saying, "nothing lasts forever." Well, your heating and plumbing equipment are no exception, but Northwest Mechanical is here to help. Proper equipment maintenance increases efficiency and extends the life of your heating and plumbing systems.

Just as your car requires a tune-up, anything with moving parts requires routine maintenance. In fact, all major manufacturers recommend annual service to ensure safe and proper operation.

With a Planned Maintenance Agreement from Northwest Mechanical, you'll get an annual system inspection every year you stay with the plan. This allows us to keep your system operating at maximum efficiency, and to spot little problems before they result in big, expensive repairs. In the meantime, you'll enjoy the best your system has to offer...all while maximizing your energy savings.

As an added bonus, our Planned Maintenance Agreement customers receive priority scheduling for emergency service calls and a 15% discount on all services that we offer.

Plus, you can obtain a Northwest Mechanical Planned Maintenance Agreement for your heating system, plumbing system, or both! Act today, and you can lock in current rates for the next five years! Please call or visit our web site to learn more. Or simply use the coupon below to save $25 off a Planned Maintenance Agreement today.

It's a plan that provides a little added PEACE of MIND for you and your family...Around the House.

Around the House

Just What You Need... "Around the House".

At Northwest Mechanical, we think it is important to keep good customers like you informed ... of helpful home comfort tips, new products and services, and other consumer-friendly information.

That's why we're publishing "Around the House," a quarterly newsletter we hope you'll enjoy receiving.

Northwest Mechanical is now your complete resource for radiant floor heating and water heater solutions, as well as solar and fire sprinkler system installation. From system design and installation to ongoing maintenance and expert repairs, we're on the job "24/7" ... for all those times when a heating emergency can't wait for normal business hours.

When we arrive at your home, our technicians are uniformed, courteous, and professional. We put on shoe covers and in every other way treat you and your home with respect. Our employees are factory-trained, and work hard to reinforce their knowledge and skills through ongoing training and development to give you the quality service you deserve.

Northwest Mechanical. "Around the House," there's nobody quite like us.
